

Denmark is a frontrunner in the development and use of robotics in healthcare

Modern workflow robots relieve strained hospital staff.

A healthier working environment for all personnel ultimately leads to a stronger and more efficient healthcare system

Robotics in Healthcare

Healthcare robots ensure a high level of patient care, efficient clinical processes and a safe environment for both patients and health workers

Check out our new publication and learn more about Danish robots in hospitals and how they work

